Stanford Sees End Of Politics In Fair Board

With the State's Commissioner of Agriculture no longer to be president of the State Fair Board, the situation was hailed this week as a good omen for Kentucky's leading agricultural show by J. E. Stanford, executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

Commenting on the new set up for operating the State Fair agency, Stanford said in part:

"The exit of the Commissioner of Agriculture as president of the State Fair Board seems to signal an end to political administration of the State Fair and the severe handicaps that partisan politics have heretofore imposed on it. This should hasten transformation of the fair into a first class educational and entertainment event for the public and as an important influence in promoting better rural homemaking, farming and livestock production in our predominantly agricultural state. This was the intent of the Fair Reorganization Act sponsored by the Kentucky Farm Bureau and other agricultural organizations and passed by the last General Assembly.

County Government To Cost More Next Year

With the County Budget Committee's recommendations to the Fiscal Court expected within the next few days, Jefferson County officials are "finance minded" these days. In the meantime indications are that the aggregate estimated amount to be required by the county for the next fiscal year will be raised considerably over last year.

The City-County Health Board requires more than any other single agency. The Jefferson County Board of Health has announced a budget to the Fiscal Court of $234,000—approximately $200,000 more than was spent for its functions in the present fiscal year, during which the County assumed $600,000 of the tax.

Operations of the County Fire Department are expected to undergo considerable expansion during the coming year. Likewise the County Recreation Department is enlarging its program and extending its facilities to proportions which would require an estimated total of $85,000. The recreation budget is divided 50-50 between the Fiscal Court and the County Board of Education.

County Judge Horace Barker says that the County Police Department needs a score or more of additional men to be able to service up to where he feels it should be.

The County Budget Commission is composed of J. E. Barker, County Attorney Sam Steinfield and Accountant Harvey Cardwell.

AGENT RECOGNIZED

Thirty-two years of tireless effort has brought Mrs. Jennie C. Grubbs national recognition for distinguished service to agriculture and homemaking. She was appointed home demonstration agent in Boyle County March 1, 1915. Her first work consisted principally of organizing sewing, gardening, canning and poultry clubs among boys and girls. Beginning in six rural communities, Mrs. Grubbs gradually extended her work over the county.

$127,772 For Medical Scholarship Fund

Virgil Steed, director of the Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund, announced that the active public campaign for the Country Doctor Fund is now closed. But, said Steed, "the campaign for better and more complete medical care in Kentucky has just begun."

The amount pledged for the scholarship fund stood, on April 10, at $127,772.14. The original goal was set at $100,000. The real objective is that of bringing the standard of rural health up to the level of urban.

The Medical Scholarship Fund Campaign to raise $100,000 has been sponsored jointly by the Kentucky State Medical Association and the University of Louisville School of Medicine. It is designed to meet the dire need for rural doctors in Kentucky. When the fund is raised, the University will loan to rural students who could not otherwise afford the high cost of medical education.

Students must agree to practice one year in rural Kentucky for each year of financial aid received. They will repay the loan over a period of years after they have begun practice. The MEDICAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND will be a perpetual revolving fund to provide doctors in rural Kentucky.

Eastwood Churches To Present Drama

"The Prisoner at the Bar," a highly dramatized court trial telling the story of the tragedy of repeal under the present liquor set-up, is to be presented at a number of places over the county, under the auspices of the Dry Forces of the County, cooperating with the Educational Department of the Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky.

The drama will be presented by local talent at a union meeting of the Methodist and Baptist churches in the Baptist Church at Eastwood Sunday evening, April 27, at 7:30.

Walter J. Hoshall, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, is directing the drama, and takes the part of "The Prisoner." To date, Mr. Hoshall has played this part over 1,100 times, in presenting the drama to packed houses all over the State.

The trial is taken from actual court records. The sensational testimony of "Mrs. Frank Hall," the principal witness who was first on the scene of the gruesome tragedy, is highly interesting.

The dramatic highlight of the drama is the unusual and powerful plea of the prisoner and the farewell between him and his little daughter, "Dorothy," just before he is sentenced for killing her mother.

Critics claim it is one of the most impressive temperance dramas ever staged in a "bar-room." It is highly recommended, and is enthusiastically received by church leaders.

The cast includes the following local talent: Judge Forsyth, Rev. William Stout; Clerk of the Court, Jack Morgan; County Attorney, Thomas C. Menard; Defense Attorney, Robert W. Cook; Tom Hargrave, the gerrit expert, Rev. E. H. Insko; Sheriff Johnson, E. H. Waites; Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. H. H. Waites; Mrs. A. A. Graham; Dorothy, the Prisoner's daughter, Sylvia Gay Hall.

The jury is made up of 12 prominent men and women to be chosen from the audience.

County's Stream Gaging Program is Reviewed

At a meeting held Thursday afternoon, at the office of the Louisville Area Development Association, the Association's committee on drainage made a study of progress reports on the project and on the Pond Creek drainage project of the Jefferson County soil conservation district.

Progress on the stream-gaging project was reviewed in a report submitted to the group by E. F. Schramm, Jr., chief engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey. Stream-gaging stations are located in the County on Pond Creek at Mansfield Road, Floyd Fork at Fisherville, South Fork Beargrass Creek at Trevelyan, and on the Middle Fork Beargrass Creek at Cannon's Lane. The rain gages are located at Odellon, Pave Valley, Mansfield Road and Fisherville.

The gaging records provide a basis for solving problems involving the control of flow of the streams or runoff from the area. The problem of drainage in this county first directed attention to the need for knowledge of the stream flows.

VOTER, BE ON THY GUARD
The voters of this state and nation should keep reminding themselves that they need to be alert, and continuously on guard, if they would keep up with the politicians, whose fishing (for votes) season is again having its official opening. Yes, the day of promises is upon us.
Unlike the proverbial fish stories which usually emphasize the size of the catch, or the ones that get away, the politician majors on, and contends for, the size of the bait. It's the biggest and best promise that can be thought of that appeals to the candidate as an inducement to the ballot. And to combat it and keep himself from being stampeded into believing the millennium is about to be ushered in with Utopia in the offing, the voter must certainly be awake.
The alert candidate (and none of them are quite asleep) is usually ready to capitulate on whatever timely, high sounding phrase or to take advantage of whatever transpires in the process of civil affairs or in the national economy. The latest example is to be found in the accusation by a Republican congress of the President wanting to veto tax lowering measures so that he may take credit in 1948.
But there are examples closer to home. And it is interesting to watch the candidates as they grab at the bait—sometimes mere straws blowing in the wind of public notice—suggestion of an issue, to which can be tied a vote getting promise.
Let the voter be inwardly wise, if outwardly ignorant to the tricks of the political trade that is as old as civilization. Beware of the fellow in politics who is always ready to jump to his feet and make a big promise to "the good people" of our county or commonwealth. Those promises are often as bait, set to catch big game in field and stream of political activity.

SPEAKS WELL FOR PLAY CENTERS
We are impressed by a statement compiled by the County Recreation Department, summarizing damages to school property in the County caused by recreation activities in the various local communities. Throughout the 24 community centers, from which reports were received from school principals, there were only four reporting any damage done to the school properties. And these damages were slight.
This speaks well for the supervisors at the centers and for the type of recreation program under way during the fall and winter seasons, which represent the period covered by the reports.
In providing recreation facilities for as many different centers, with the program as extensive as it is in this County, it is normally expected to have more or less accidental damage inflicted on the premises.

Letters to the Editor

MINISTER'S APPRECIATION
April 18, 1947.
Dear Mr. Hummel: Just a note to tell you that I appreciate your editorial of today's paper entitled "Have We No Leg To Stand On?" Such a stand sincerely taken, such a word quickly spoken carries a great deal of weight.
Of course, it is true that such a charge is leveled against the church, which you deplore, will ever make the front pages—for that is news. But the humble, Christian faith that manifests itself in service does not make the front pages—for to the complement of the Christian faith, it is not news, but rather the expected.
Your open-hearted editorial is a credit to your paper.

Sparks and Sundries

Whoever it was that first said "It takes all kinds of people to make a world," was certainly "on the beam"—he knew his point well to speak. If there is one thing which rolling around the country in early morning impresses on one it is the necessity of wide tolerance—of not trying to press everyone into one standardized mold of our own designing. By the time we came to Kentucky, when I was fourteen, we had lived in as many homes during my brief existence as I was years old. From the two-room house in the great big city to the rooming house on a little Indiana farm, to which Father retired several years later, we had a hop, skip and jump series of moves in five states. Locations in towns, cities and the wide countryside, in rooms, apartments and modest houses, were our habitations for a few years. The people contacted as neighbors, friends, or just acquaintances, in these wanderings, were of every sort—good, bad and unclassified. Every race and creed was represented in this motley of humanity and nearly every complexion of viewpoint on matters of more or less vital consideration was included. It was a kaleidoscope of the human species, much of it drab and uninteresting, but now and then stirring or even thrilling. We met these people from the plane of a minister's family and they might have appeared somewhat differently from some other angle, but that was they were and that is that. Yes, that guy was surely right, "It takes all kinds."

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
BY IRVING GALLOWAY
NEEDED, GOOD "PITCHERS" are scarce. An acquaintance who has grown a bit critical in his lifetime of watching Kentucky local betterment organizations start out with noble intentions and eventually peter out from lack of initiative or courage or leadership, was talking.
"You know," he said, "I get a queer sensation every time I attend a meeting of one of these civic groups in my town. And I guess my town is typical of scores of Kentucky communities. Usually there are two long tables, with a short one for the chairman, a guest speaker and three or four

OLD FAMILIES
My town has undergone rapid changes in the nearly forty years that I have lived in it, but no change has been so marked as the passing of the importance of old families. Bowling Green was still clinging desperately to the Civil War in 1908, when I arrived. Over and over we were reminded of this and that family prominently in pre-war days. Outsiders like me had to talk about something else, for what were our families beside the great ones here? In general these great houses, impressive but hard to take care of, are not occupied by any of the fond descendants who have been so often mentioned in the past. To me one of the most tragic things in our state is the thing that so often gets into the pictures: I refer to the great mansions and palaces of other days. IL. Strong Manhood (5:13-16).
The temple of God which David had wanted to build, was by God's decree, built by Solomon. Such a tremendous undertaking called for much in the way of men and materials, and Solomon demonstrated his great capacity as a builder in bringing the project to a glorious conclusion.
He also built great cities (I Kings 7:17-18), and organized his kingdom as king. The tragic results, armed forces (12:26). All this required much money and manpower, which the king took by levy from his people. As long as he walked in the way of the Lord he prospered, and his country grew in standing and in riches.
God is interested in the men of the world who are able to give ability for mighty projects and extensive organization. The Lord is ready to bless such men in our day, and use their gifts and their money for his glory (see the life story of Henry P. Carter, published by Moody Press).

The sad thing is that such power is often too much for the spirit of mortal man, and he becomes proud, arrogant and self-willed—and then God has to turn away from him. Solomon's choice of wisdom had "pleased the Lord" (I Kings 3:10) and God had blessed him. But note the qualifying word "if" in verse 14. Solomon failed God in his later years as king. The tragic results are written for all to read. That way none of us should ever go. The lesson is plain—faith takes blessing from God; unbelief brings failure and sorrow. Let everyone that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.
III. Shaluf Old Age (11:14-19).
It would seem that a man who knows the Lord and who grows in grace and becomes even more intimate with God as he grows old. One might expect that the passing of years should mellow and sweeten life. But sad to say, it is often not the case.
When Solomon was old, he went after false gods. How tragic! Little wonder that the Lord was angry with him. This writer ever knew prayed constantly as he went on into his old age, that he might never become a wicked old man. "Other old men and women (yes, and all of us) could well pray the same prayer.
So it became necessary for God to send the Lord to the hands of the great Solomon, and Israel goes on to its history of a people divided, of disobedience to God, and of ultimate judgment. Of that we shall see more in the weeks just ahead.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Released by Western Newspaper Union.
Lesson for April 27
Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected by the National Council of Religious Education, used by the National Council of Religious Education.
LESSON TEXT—I Kings 2:3-5; 12:13-14.
MEMORY SELECTION—"That in the world as it is, there is no such thing as a free lunch"—Proverbs 2:2.
Success or failure in life is determined by the measure of a man's devotion to God and obedience to the will of God. We speak now of real success, not according to the ideas of the world. We are concerned with what a man is and what he does for God, not with what he may happen to possess.
The life of Solomon falls into three divisions, corresponding to his early manhood, middle life and old age. It moves from glory and blessing to tragedy and judgment.
I. Wise Youth (2:3-9).
We use the word youth to cover the early years of Solomon's reign. He was now a young man, a goodly background, and his rearing and his faith in God showed in his degree of wisdom as God's greatest gift.
Sometimes we wish God would give us such an opportunity. That is just what he has done. He has appeared to you, not in dreams, but in broad daylight, and by his Son Jesus Christ as said as plainly as he could, "Ask and it shall be given you." He has returned to us, "Every one that asketh receive, and that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."
We have no right "to say that Solomon was a great man, and that we are more favored than he. If we are not, it is because we ask not. If we are not, it is because we do not seek for wisdom, and happiness and heaven, it is all for want of asking" (Joseph Hammond).
Solomon's choice of wisdom of Solomon has been so much admired, and rightly so, for he chose the greatest gift that could come to any man, "an understanding heart." He might have asked for money or power, but he asked for wisdom to use them properly they would have been a curse to him. He asked for wisdom, and a continued faith to a foolish man, for he only extends the time of his life.

By GEORGE PECK
Teachers Who Don't Strike
National Sunday School Week under the sponsorship of the Laymen's National Committee, will be observed from April 14 to 20 inclusive. Here is an opportunity for delinquent parents to send their boys and girls to Sunday School on Sunday, April 20—and then every Sunday thereafter.

Arthur P. Dawley, editor of THE STANDARD, Wickford, Rhode Island, recently paid tribute to the Sunday School Teacher. His editorial carries such a powerful message that I am passing it on. I am sure every neglectful parent who reads his editorial will pack their kids off to Sunday School on April 20. From here on Mr. Dawley takes over:

For many decades, thousands of educated American men and women devoted their lives to teaching the three R's to the children of our young men and women of the land, trusting and hoping that some day their employers (all of us) would recognize their value in keeping with their higher education and adequate for maintaining in society the position and activities demanded by the public. Thousands of these in the teaching profession today are tired of waiting for appreciation and a salary increase to keep pace with the rising cost of living and these educators are using the same means of getting a living wage as their employers (the public) have used. Strange that we who are so sensitive to our own financial needs and comforts could never see that the teachers we employ deserve and need good pay.

But there are thousands of other teachers who have put in many years with the young without thought of monetary returns—our Sunday School Teachers, who week after week labor to educate the heart and mind, even as the public school teacher seeks to educate the mind and heart.

The two groups have their work cut out for them. The public school teacher must still as much general knowledge in the pupil as possible along with the Bible and history. The church teacher's first aim is moral education along with historical and Bible knowledge.

The Sunday School Teacher doesn't teach for money and would recoil in honor from such a suggestion. The Sunday School Teacher wouldn't strike but be tempted to resign. The Sunday School Teacher asks for an opportunity to teach Christianity but also asks for the same.

Kind Ellen Ricketts and Mr. Charles Irwin left Sunday for Bowling Green after spending the E.A. holidays with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ricketts. Messrs. Warren McCauley and Gene Sims also spent the holidays at their respective homes.

Mrs. Joe Kaufman passed away Friday, April 18, at the General Hospital after a lingering illness. We extend sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Franklin and Mrs. Warren McCauley and Mrs. E. N. Rush were callers in the J. C. Rush home Friday night to see Mrs. Joseph L. Franklin and son, Joseph Leroy, Jr., who returned from St. Joseph's Infirmary where the latter was born April 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Heber Lewis of Burdette spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ricketts.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gailbreath and children and Miss Dorothy Carrell were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Rush and family.

Miss Stella Owens is taking care of Mrs. Florence Owen who is ill.

Mrs. Harold Barnes and Mrs. E. B. Smith called to see Mrs. Florence Owen Friday afternoon. Miss Sherrel Calvert spent Wednesday after school with Glenda Smith.

Joyce Smith spent Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Myrtle Carrell.

Miss Florence Rothman visited Garneta Smith Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Travis spent Monday with Mrs. Doris Coleman and helped her paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Moore and Mr. Pope Shehan were supper guests of Miss Corine Owen and mother Sunday night.

care and firm cooperation of the parents.

Consider the church teacher's position. The teacher has about 50 Sundays a year with half hour sessions for probably ten years. In this time, which adds up to about 250 hours, he or she will try to get the contents of the Bible into the hearts and minds of the youngsters. This is a Herculean task when one considers that the attendance on the part of the child is voluntary and that the parents are often indifferent about the whole matter.

And yet in spite of all difficulties and obstacles, the Sunday School Teacher keeps on keeping on, and to these good people, who teach right living because they want to belong to a large portion of the credit for what moral uprightness we have in this country today.

Most of the men in the nation's high places once went to Sunday school. Most of us who know o'clock.

our Bible, laid the foundation of our knowledge in Sunday School. Most of the law and order in our land we have because the Sunday School Teacher taught moral duty, the practice of which leads to peace. The police admit that were it not for the Sunday Schools and Churches, it wouldn't be safe to walk the streets.

The Sunday School Teacher is one of the greatest forces for good in our country today and come what may in the ranks of Capital or Labor, there will be no strikes in this group. And when and if a lasting solution to our problems is found, it will be because the leaders sometime, somewhere learned from a Sunday School Teacher the way to live.

Harry Lee Waterfield, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will speak over Radio Station WHAS Saturday night, April 25, from 9 to 9:15 o'clock. Most of us who know o'clock.

CANCER KILLS IN EVERY OTHER HOME

... the average in the U. S. A.

The condemned ate a hearty meal

THIS may be your next-door neighbor's table—or yours. Sooner or later, cancer may come to your house or his. Every day, cancer sits at somebody's table. For cancer strikes—on the average—one out of every two American homes—one out of eight Americans is condemned to die of cancer unless we do something about it. How can you help fight this disease? One way is to see your doctor the minute any member of your family develops one of cancer's danger signals. Another way—a way in which you not only help guard those you love but bring new hope to thousands—is to join the fight to conquer cancer.

The April drive of the American Cancer Society is now on. Help this vast army of workers drive cancer from our midst. Give so they can pay for more research. Give so they can buy more equipment to ease suffering, restore hope. Give so they can find a cure for cancer—a cure that some day may save a life in your own home.

And give generously, won't you? Let's stop fearing cancer—let's conquer cancer!

*Cancer's Danger Signals

1. Any sore that does not heal... particularly about the tongue, mouth, or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, hip, or thigh.
3. Bloody discharge from the nipple or irregular bleeding from any of the other natural body openings.
4. Progressive change in the color or size of a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any radical change in normal bowel habits.

LIFE-AND-DEATH FACTS ABOUT CANCER

One-eighth of our entire population—17,000,000 Americans—are today doomed to die of cancer. This is a shocking, but absolutely true fact. But there is hope... even today, one out of three may be cured of cancer, and in at least one type, 92% is curable—when caught in time. And to help science finally conquer cancer, the American Cancer Society has made more than 100 grants for research projects. Right now, the same scientific group responsible for the atomic bomb is directing the research to conquer cancer. Every dollar you give speeds the search.

Washington, D. C.—The House of Representatives has passed a bill which rewrites and reforms labor legislation not only to balance the scales between industry and labor, but to protect the public. It is a bill, written after long and searching hearings, intended for no other purpose than to end the evils which have developed and grown under the discriminatory legislation of the New Deal.

The Senate is not far behind the House in this matter. Its bill, also written after exhaustive Labor Committee hearings, is ready for consideration by the full Senate. It differs in not a few respects from the House measure, but the basic purposes are the same, namely, to end certain labor practices constituting basic causes of the strikes which have plagued the American Public for years.

Neither bill interferes with the fundamental right of labor, the right of collective bargaining through agents of the union's own choice and the right to strike are preserved. However, the jurisdictional strike, one of the greatest of the evils arising out of the New Deal labor policy, is banned by both bills.

This is one of the most important of the reforms, since its aim is to end one of the greatest of the evils in employer-employee relations. For years now the jurisdictional strike has been used by one union for no other purpose than to gain power over another union. In most cases, its purpose has been to compel an employer to violate a contract entered into with a union under the Wagner Labor Relations Act, despite the fact that he was living up to that contract in every respect. Banning of the secondarily boycott is another provision the bills have in common.

Both bills also would outlaw the closed shop but permit other forms of union security upon voluntary agreements. The House bill is aimed, in one specific inhibition, at limiting industry-wide bargaining. This provision does not yet appear in the Senate bill.

Fern Creek

By Miss Maggie Johnson

Little Martha Burn has had chicken pox. Mrs. Alice Moore has returned from Lebanon, Ky., for a few days. Mr. Earl Bates of Louisville seems to be having trouble, then more trouble. On Saturday night the filling station which he had leased was robbed and the following Tuesday morning an empty gasoline tank blew up and caused a fire. I think it is all covered by insurance.

Mrs. W. A. Davis and family visited her parents near Bowling Green over the week end. Sorry to hear of Mrs. Joe Kaufman's death.

Our Circle met with Mrs. Kaufman Stivers last Thursday afternoon with ten members present.

Mrs. V. M. Bruchert has come back to Murray, Ky., where her husband is a student. She has been in Fern Creek during the winter.

Mr. Henry Berry has been very low for several days. Miss Bessie Baker visited her sister, Mrs. Lida Gray, in Louisville Sunday.

There will be a Mother and Daughter Banquet in the basement of the church May 4.

The Louisville Presbyterian will meet April 24 at the third church, 29th and Broadway. This is the women's annual meeting. Miss Ruth Johnson has had one cast removed and another put on for a broken bone.

Mrs. Myrtle Kennedy seems to be improving.

Newburg News

By Mrs. J. H. Shively.

As was announced last week, Dr. Kenneth B. Bowen, president of Bible College at Lexington, delivered a wonderful message at Newburg Sunday morning to a large and very appreciative audience, taking his text from Isaiah 62.

Doctor Bowen was pastor at Newburg 33 years ago and was happy to see many familiar faces, but many have passed away in that time. One outstanding thing during Dr. Bowen's pastorate at Newburg and well worth mentioning is the fact that he organized the Ladies' Aid in 1914 at the home of Mrs. C. R. Hart. There were ten present on that day and all became members.

Dr. Bowen's pastorate at Newburg and well worth mentioning is the fact that he organized the Ladies' Aid in 1914 at the home of Mrs. C. R. Hart. There were ten present on that day and all became members. Mrs. Bowen has been back with us in May. He is anxious to secure a good preacher for us.

Mrs. Calvin Hart's mother passed away suddenly Saturday.

night about 9:45 with a heart attack. We all know Mrs. Best and loved her and our deep sympathy is extended to Mrs. Hart and all the surviving family.

Dr. Bowen was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stivers at the Nicholson Hotel, but found time before returning to Lexington to make many calls. He called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fielden Frederick, Mrs. G. H. Frey and called to see Mr. Cook who was sick and could not be at church. Then he and Mrs. Shively called to see Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pendergast and Mr. Walter Wilhoite. Dr. Bowen was entertained in this hospitable home, an old landmark, when he was pastor at Newburg and it was a great pleasure to go back to this home.

Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Frederick and Mrs. Shively spent Tuesday quilting in the home of Mrs. Jack Kailser. We finished the flower-garden quilt belonging to Mrs. Clifton Kailser.

The singing was good at Newburg Sunday, the congregation entering in very heartily. The young people had a special and Miss Shirley Neblett favored us with two beautiful violin solos. With Mrs. Evelyn Bennett as accompanist at the organ. They are both talented musicians and added greatly to the service.

Mrs. Cecil Downs was luncheon guest of Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Shively Thursday.

Ruth Ann Haering entertained a crowd of her schoolmates Easter Monday. They always enjoy a visit with Ruth in this hospitable home. They have a wide range and especially enjoy the hay loft.

Mr. O. J. Stivers presented the Newburg Church with a new communion set.

SMOKE RINGS

By Charles Vettiner

Guess Smoke Ringier better blow his first batch of rings this week to the two Jefferson County agencies who were in the national limelight—your County Board of Education and your Fiscal Court.

At Indianapolis, the Midwest Recreation Conference came to the fact that the recreation program of Jefferson County was the pattern for the nation to follow.

Smoke told them about Orville Stivers, H. B. Slaughter, Dr. C. B. Shacklette and Dick McInosh co-operating with Judge Horace Barker, Miles Thacker, E. P. White, Jr., and Ed Torstick to co-sponsor the program.

You just can't get away from the fact that the Board of Education and the Fiscal Court made a popular move when they created the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board which stamped Jefferson as a leader of the nation.

Sure, Ole Smoke knows you're anxious to know about that summer program. Mrs. George Walker, general manager of the popular WHAS sportscenter, phoned Smoke last night to say:

"Ringier, what do we have to do to get a playground here at Mademoiselle Number 31 for a summer play area and budget is set up to provide for 24 at the most."

Every Jefferson County community planning for a playground will just have to have a representative at the offices of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board tonight—cause the playgrounds to be awarded to 24 lucky communities.

Virgil Lloyd, Eastwood's brand new recreation chairman, has been trying to phone Smoke Ringier all week about the date of that meeting.

Take it from Smoke, Virgil will be there because Eastwood is going to have a top-notch playground this summer—thanks to the efforts of people like Chris Stucker and Virgil Lloyd.

Ole Smoke likes to see every body happy, but it looks like there's going to be seven communities without that much-needed playground. It'll be the neediest communities who show the most interest and the most interest who'll get the coveted awards.

Don't forget the place is the office of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, 25 and the time is 7:30 p. m. All local recreation chairmen please show up.

Calling all friends of Sam Sanders, popular chairman of your Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board. Mrs. Sam and Elizabeth's Hospital recuperating from an operation.

Drop this card in a get-well-in-a-hurry card because Jefferson County can't afford to have Sam's name now, but he's keepin' it a secret. It's a great song though.

Take it from Ole Smoke—E. P. White, Jr., is gonna be mighty proud of the theme song in Jefferson County. It was E. P. who had the idea that Jefferson County ought to have a theme song and suggested a song-writing contest sponsored by the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board.

All you Smoke Rings fans ought to attend the big musical shindig the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is going to stage when the song is officially introduced. Smoke knows the winner's name now, but he's keepin' it a secret. It's a great song though.

OUR COUNTY RECREATION TOPS IN THE NATION

CHARLES VETTINER, Editor.

The Midwest Recreation Conference at Indianapolis came to a close yesterday with a proclamation that the recreation program of Jefferson County is the pattern for the nation to follow.

Charles Vettiner, director of recreation, was called to Indianapolis to explain the model setup of Jefferson County recreation to recreation leaders from 11 Midwestern states. So great was the interest in the Jefferson County program that the recreation leaders kept the Jefferson County director on the floor for almost an hour answering the most detailed questions about the program.

The Jefferson County Board of Education and the Fiscal Court drew high praise from the leaders of recreation of the nation for their progressive move and long-range vision in co-sponsoring the Jefferson County recreation program.

L. H. Weir, field secretary of the National Recreation Association, took the floor to announce that the recreation program of Jefferson County is considered the pattern for the rest of the nation. Weir informed Vettiner that the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board would be called on continuously for advice concerning the setting up of programs similar to the one in Jefferson County.

Fire Destroys Home

Fire destroyed a five-room house and entire contents on Union Lane, south of Middle town, late Monday afternoon. It was the home of H. L. Griffin, 5th, and Mrs. Griffin, neither of whom were at home when the fire started, of undetermined origin.
Vance Walker, captain and a crew of 11 volunteer firemen took equipment of the Middle town Volunteer Fire Department to the scene of the blaze but they were unable to extinguish it since the citizens located just beside the house, proved inaccessible to the firemen.
Mr. Griffin is manager of the Fern Shop Company, Louisville.
